

NEW JUVENILE LEAGUE STARTS CRUSADE HERE TO CHECK DANCE HALLS

INVESTIGATION TO DETERMINE EFFECT ON YOUNG PLANNED

William E. Barber's Plan to Make County Prisoners Work to Support Families Adopted

Public dance halls in La Crosse will soon undergo an investigation. A crusade to determine the amount of moral delinquency here will be started in the near future, it was decided upon last night at a meeting of the newly formed juvenile welfare committee of the Associated Charities, composed of present of Miss Nedra Thomas, general secretary of the Associated Charities, and Rev. William Everett Johnson, president. Others will be added to the committee at the May meeting of the organization.

The Associated Charities indorsed a plan to aid Sheriff George J. Ritter in finding employment for county prisoners, along the lines of a resolution recently presented to the county board of supervisors by Supervisor W. E. Barber, that was defeated, but which will again be presented to the board at its organization meeting.

Favor Juvenile Court. The report of the committee, presented at the meeting of the board of directors Tuesday night makes recommendations for caring for children and advises through investigations into local conditions which have a bearing on their welfare.

It is proposed by the committee to co-operate with Judge John Brindley in establishing a juvenile court here. Delinquent children will be taken to at the office of the Associated Charities when deemed advisable, and not taken into court.

For this purpose the committee also proposes to maintain definite office hours.

The committee advises that stringent methods be employed in enforcing laws pertaining to the sale of cigarettes and liquor to minors.

Plans in Detail. First—To co-operate with the police department in providing care and advice for stranded or runaway boys or girls picked up by the police pending with their parents or guardians.

Second—To co-operate with Judge Brindley in promoting the organization of a juvenile court, finding volunteer probation officers when needed, and interesting itself in cases of juvenile delinquency and neglect brought before the court.

Boost Barber Plan. Third—To support county officials in an effort to provide employment for county jail prisoners, and the payment of their wages to their families who might otherwise be dependent.

Fourth—To urge the enforcement of the law against the sale of cigarettes and alcohol to minors.

Fifth—To hold regular office hours for the hearing of complaints and furnishing legal advice in cases of delinquent, dependent or neglected children, with a view to applying remedial measures and settling cases without resort to the court when possible.

Sixth—To make investigation of local conditions having a direct bearing on the welfare of children and young people—such as supervision of dance halls, amount of juvenile delinquency, amount of mental subnormality, etc.

GRADUATES ADOPT SIMPLICITY RULES FOR COMMENCEMENT

Cap and Gown Suggestion Is Abandoned and Shirt Waist Suits Favored

CLASS STARTS INNOVATION Only One Gown for Girls Favored Faculty Advises Parents; This to Be Simple

Endeavors on the part of members of the graduating class at the high school this year to secure a cap and gown graduation have started a movement among the graduates which will make the June graduation the simplest held in this city. In past years efforts towards simplicity have been more or less successful but none so much so as the present movement.

In a meeting of the class held at the high school the class went on record today as demanding simple clothes and a sentiment in favor of girls wearing shirt waist suits gained much favor.

Caps and gowns will not be used as the class feels this change is not necessary to insure that all will be dressed simply. Silk dresses and elaborate toilettes have been tabooed and anyone dressing elaborately will be more out of place at the commencement than those dressing simply.

In regard to this matter said Principal B. E. McCormick today: "School favors simplicity."

"We want simplicity. We hope that students will be reasonable in what they ask for and that parents will use good judgment in granting requests. Let it be known that the authorities of the high school and the public in general will look with favor on simplicity and economy."

"Elaborate and extravagant costumes for the commencement exercises or the events of commencement week, are absolutely uncalled for. In the normal schools, the colleges, and the great universities simple and inexpensive dress prevails, at commencement time while in high schools the feature is usually over-dress."

"Of course, the cap and gown might eliminate some of the extravagance, yet it is not the means of keeping down this unnecessary expense. In Watertown the girls of the class of 1910 voted to wear white shirt waist suits."

Girls Make Own Waists. "In most cases these were made by the students themselves at a cost of not more than two dollars each. This stands out in my mind as the most successful commencement I have had experience with. The class was particularly happy. There was no one who felt embarrassed because her dress was not as elaborate or expensive as that of her neighbor. The public also approved and the class felt it had established a precedent worth while."

"While the members of the 1915 class did not decide to wear uniform dresses, I am happy to see the great sentiment against expensive dresses. The graduate in extremely elaborate dress, this year, will feel very much out of place."

"I was also glad to see the sentiment against the proposition not to have two or more special dresses for commencement week."

"If parents wish to provide their children with extra dresses commencement should not be made an excuse for so doing."

NEW JURORS ARE CHOSEN

War Office News of Fighting

BERLIN. Wireless to London, April 22.—The war office announced the repulse of French surprise attacks, accompanied by artillery exchanges in the western part of the forest of Prete, north of Hartmannswillerkopf. Heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy, it is stated.

The war office also confirms today the unofficial reports that the Russians have compelled to evacuate Tarnow because of the heavy gun-fire of the Austrians.

PARIS. April 22.—Whether because of the tightening of the censorship lines or failures of commanders at the front to report there is again an utter absence of real news from the allied front. This afternoon's official communiqué declared that the general situation was unchanged and that there was "nothing new" to report.

Yet at the same time there is a renewal of keen interest at headquarters in the situation in Upper Alsace and the Vosges passes, where important movements are believed to be taking place.

SHARP NOTE TO BERNSTORFF REPLY TO ARMS PROTEST

German Ambassador Told That U. S. Can't Discuss Relations with Britain with Third Party

HIS LANGUAGE CRITICIZED Bryan's Answer Says His Note Can Be Construed as Impugning Good Faith of United States

RESTATE NEUTRAL POSITION Embargo on Arms at Present Is Considered by U. S. as Violation of, Neutrality

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Secretary Bryan late yesterday sent to the German embassy the reply of the United States government to the much discussed memorandum of Count von Bernstorff in which Count von Bernstorff has recently criticized the character and impartiality of American neutrality.

The German ambassador is informed that the issues between the United States and Great Britain growing out of British interference with American trade, "are hardly appropriate for discussion between the government of the United States and the government of Germany."

Language is Criticized. Count von Bernstorff is further told that the language of his memorandum "is susceptible of being construed as impugning the good faith of the United States in the performance of its duty as a neutral."

He is told that the United States has not as any time yielded any of its rights as a neutral.

The ambassador's contention that the failure of the United States to inhibit the exportation of arms was unfair to Germany is met with the declaration that an embargo in the trade in arms at the present time would be a direct violation of the neutrality of the United States.

Quoted German Note. The German ambassador's attention is called to the fact that on Dec. 15, last, he presented to the state department a memorandum of the German government, in which the imperial government stated that "under the general principles of international law, no exception can be taken to neutral states letting war materials go to Germany's enemies from or through neutral territory."

Nevertheless it is plainly the purpose of Secretary Bryan's note to make clear in the most polite language that the neutrality policy of the United States has been consistent and conscientious and the criticisms of Germany's ambassador were unwarranted in fact and most objectionable in form.

Considered a Rebuke. The view taken of the United States reply in diplomatic circles is that it is a kindly worded but very decided rebuke to the ambassador.

If the good faith of the United States should again be questioned and with unjustifiable sanction of the German imperial government a crisis in the relations between the two governments hardly could be avoided, it is believed.

Text of Bryan's Note. The Bryan note follows: "Excellency, I have given thoughtful consideration to your excellency's note of the fourth of April, 1915, enclosing a memorandum of the same date in which your excellency discusses the action of this government with regard to trade between the United States and Germany and the attitude of this government with regard to the exportation of arms from the United States to the nations now at war with Germany."

"I must admit that I am somewhat at a loss how to interpret your excellency's treatment of these matters. There are many circumstances connected with these important subjects to which I would have expected your excellency to advert but in which you make no mention, and there are other circumstances to which you do refer which I would have supposed to be hardly appropriate for discussion between the government of the United States and the government of Germany."

To Illustrate Point? "I shall take the liberty therefore of regarding your excellency's references to the course pursued by the government of the United States with regard to interferences with trade from this country such as the government of Great Britain has attempted, as intended merely to illustrate more fully the situation to which you desire to call our attention and not as an invitation to discuss that course. Your excellency's long experience in official affairs will have suggested to you that the relations of the two governments with one another can not wisely be made a subject of discussion with a third government which cannot be fully informed as to the facts, and which cannot be fully cognizant of the reasons of the course pursued. I believe, however, that I am justified in assuming that what you desire to call forth is a frank statement of the position of this government in relation to the subject."

SENATE RESENTS BIG STICK SWUNG BY THE GOVERNOR

Threat to Veto University Building Appropriations Starts a Heated Debate

BENNETT REPEAL BILL FAILS Referred Back to Committee when Viroqua Serves Notice That Philipp Won't Sign Bill

MADISON, Wis., April 22.—The state administration supporters in the senate suffered a defeat this morning, when an effort was made to pass the Bennett bill, repealing the $200,000 appropriation made by the last legislature for a physics building at the state university. A motion by Senator Biehler, democratic floor leader, to re-refer the bill to the committee on finance, was carried by a vote of 18 to 13.

The discussion over the bill became heated, when Senator J. Henry Bennett of Viroqua served notice on the senate that the governor would veto any bill which re-enacted any of the appropriations made for buildings for the university by the last legislature.

Sensors Resentful. This announcement drew forth sharp statements from several senators, resenting the attempt, as they termed it, of the governor to serve notice in advance that measures should be acted without consideration.

Senator Everett Racine, looked upon as an administration supporter, became especially caustic in his reference to the governor.

"I'll not take it from any man," he said, "whether he be the chief executive of this state, or a member of this body to tell me how to vote on any question which comes up here."

"Stirs Up the Little Devils" "I am sorry to see Senator Bennett serve notice on me that any bills will be vetoed. It stirs up the little devils in me to be told that we are not really a separate part of the government, and it gives the impression that there is a boss somewhere. It looks like the chief executive is attempting to influence the action of members of this body before proper consideration can be given. I propose to exercise my judgment on matters coming before this body independent of any notice that may be served by anyone, or attempt made to influence my action. This appropriation has been made and is absolutely essential."

Sizzling Language. Senators Jennings and Biehler, democrats, and Skogmo, republican, also resented this action on the part of the governor, in language which made the atmosphere of the senate fairly sizzle at times.

"If the governor is going to serve notice on me that he will veto any appropriation I want to serve notice on him that I shall vote to over-ride those vetoes. We are here to use our judgment, without being influenced in this manner before any full consideration has been given to the matter," said Senator Jennings.

GERMANS MASSING FROM SOISSONS TO SEA IN THE WEST

General Staff Prepares to Launch Drive Against Main New British Army

LONDON, April 22.—German first line troops are again being massed along the northern front from Soissons to the sea. Advances received today from Dutch sources indicate that the kaiser's general staff is preparing to launch a drive against the main new British army. Sir John French's troops, according to the statement made by Lloyd George in parliament yesterday, number in excess of 750,000 men. The majority of them are in the line between the French-Belgian frontier and the sea. It is against them that the kaiser is expected to make his most serious effort, and, according to the latest advices received here, the British force will have their work cut out for them.

All of the lines of railway centering in Belgium have been devoted to troop and ammunition movements since the British captured Hill No. 60, dominating the territory about Ypres. There troops have been moved to points where they can strengthen the German positions and also be used in attacks on British bases. It is reported here that included in the equipment that has passed south into Belgium, according to the reports via Dutch sources, are many heavy Austrian guns mounted on automobile trucks.

Following are sixteen of the twenty-five pictures which will form the La Crosse exhibit: Albright, Adam Emory—"Over the Mountain." Dudley, Frank V.—"Across the Ravine." Fleury, Albert—"Michigan Avenue." Fleury, Albert—"Chicago River." Halberg, Charles E.—"The Wave." Hartrath, Lucie—"October." Higgins, Victor—"Old Street, Bruges." Irvine, Wilson—"Simpson's Meadow." The first exhibit of the Art Association of La Crosse will be held at the public library beginning next week, to continue for two weeks.

It will be a FRAMED exhibit. The importance of this point will be realized by comparison of work of artists exhibited recently at the state normal with framed pictures by the same artists shown in the coming exhibit.

The exhibit is composed of the display of fifteen pictures which aroused enthusiasm at Terre Haute two weeks ago, furnished by N. H. Carpenter, director of the Chicago Art Institute, to which will be added ten pictures, five from the Art Institute of Chicago and five from the famous Higgins Gallery, Chicago.

"You will find this collection equal to that which formed the Minneapolis exhibit," writes Director Carpenter, President Coate, who attended the Minneapolis exhibit, regards this as a guarantee of excellence far beyond what might have been expected in a city of the size of La Crosse.

By courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. H. Ubbelohde their painting of Madame Le Brun, by herself, will be exhibited. Local interest in this remarkable painting is expected to establish it as a center of attraction.

The hanging committee, composed of Odie J. Owen, L. M. A. Roy, Carl Rau and Mrs. T. H. Spence, immediately will begin the arrangement of the display.

Membership cards, with an association monogram designed by Mr. Roy, have been completed, and visitors to the exhibit who so desire may become members of the association.

A most interesting program has been arranged by the exhibit committee, composed of Messrs. Frank P. Hixon, Carl Rau, Dr. A. Gunder-Capenter, President Coate, who attended the Minneapolis exhibit, regards this as a guarantee of excellence far beyond what might have been expected in a city of the size of La Crosse.

Explains Why Mark is Low. "The fact that a German mark today is worth 22 cents instead of the normal 24," I said to him, "is being quoted abroad as an indication that Germany is already whipped. That is one question not understood in the United States. Can you explain it from the German standpoint?"

"At the commencement of the war," Dr. Helfferich continued, "communication between the United States and Germany was cut. Financiers naturally are a timid people. First impressions always count with them. It was impossible to keep in close communication with the United States. Our imports and exports were practically stopped. Considerable foreign investments were blocked. We have been unable to conduct our business with the United States. And your financiers and other neutral foreigners were unable to know at first hand just what the situation in Germany actually was."

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

PASTEL SHADES

BY HARMONY WELLER

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
Priscilla Walker was not exactly dull, but she never sparkled. She was not exactly homely, but she was not pretty.
"If I should try to describe her," one man in her set was heard to say in speaking of Priscilla. "She has a personality that is of pastel shades."
Why, Jinks, you're waxing almost poetic. That's one of the best things I ever heard you say," laughed Tom Royden, slapping him on the back. "Yes, Priscilla is made up of pastel shades, now that I think of it."
"You can stand such a lot of Priscilla Walker," another man had said of her. "She never bores you with brilliance nor lulls you to sleep with her lack of presence. She is just comfortable; the more you know of her the better you like her."
"Hire a hall and make a speech about her, why don't you?" asked Tom Royden again; for it was to him that the second remark also was made. "Or write her about it. I never heard so many eloquent compliments about any one little drab-colored girl," he said, with some heat.
"Never drab-colored, Tom. Anything but that."
"That's so, Bill; old maids are drab, aren't they?"
And thereafter, in spite of himself, he was drawn toward Priscilla. He told himself it was only to find out what it was that Bill Hayden and Ben Jinks were always talking about. But the more he was thrown with her—the more he danced with her, dined with her, talked with her—the more he had to admit her fascination.
"Her personality seems to be always just what I need. She invariably fits into my mood. Now, what bothers me is this: does she fit in this way to every fellow's notion? Does every one think she's just the right girl?"
Tom pondered these questions through more than one night. At length he became a frequent guest in the home of Priscilla's parents in their country place on Long Island. And it was during visits in her home that he began to gather, through close introspection, the reasons for her personality.
Her father, an unusually successful business man, was bluff and noisy, self-centered and very proud of his achievements in the material world. Her mother was the antithesis of the father; she was diffident, quiet, retiring—but sweet. Priscilla, born unselfish, had tried all her life to please both parents. She had listened to and admired her father on all occasions, drawn him out on his favorite topics, flattered him a little. With her mother, she tried to be as interesting as possible; she attempted to make the little woman feel that she was a part and parcel of the world instead of a retiring, almost subdued creature. And Priscilla succeeded in bringing more color into her mother's personality than any one else had ever been able to do. Mrs. Walker was almost at ease when Priscilla was about.
"Priscilla," Tom asked one night as they sat at coffee before the log fire in the dimly lighted living room, "is there anything you can't do—anything you are not interested in?"
Priscilla laughed softly and studied the black coffee in the tiny cup she held. "Why—yes, I suppose there are many things I can't do."
"For instance?"
"I can't vote," she laughed.
"And don't want to, I hope," added Tom, testily.
"Oh, but I do! I'd like very much to have the privilege of the ballot, but it is hardly my way to—well, to get out and fight for it," she said.
"Next?" persisted Tom to talk of himself, it isn't an interesting topic.
"Oh, don't force me to talk of myself, it isn't an interesting topic."
"Not to you, perhaps. But Priscilla," Tom leaned toward her, "it has become the most absorbing topic."

for thought, conversation and consideration—to me."

Priscilla only smiled a sweet, non-committal sort of smile.
"Did you hear what I said?" he repeated.

Priscilla nodded. "Why—yes, I think I did," she admitted.
"Girl, don't you know most girls would have blushed—if they weren't past blushing—or simpered or looked shocked? And yet you receive that remark—which you know very well is only the forerunner of more and serious ones—as if I had said it was a pleasant day. Priscilla, look at me."

Priscilla turned her soft blue eyes full upon him. Slowly a smile dawned in them even as she looked at him. "Well?" she asked. "What then?"

"What then? I love you. I can't stand it to be away from you for a day. And yet I have that awful feeling that you are all things to all men—to all people in the world. And I never could stand that, dear. I'm jealous; I want you to be mine alone."

"But—Tom," she said, calling him by the familiar title for the first time, though he had long discarded formality with her. "What makes you think I—I am so much to every one?"

"Oh, the fellows are always making poetic remarks about you; they are always looking at you; always wanting to do something for you. And the girls adore you! So where do I come in? Can you tell me? Or is it against that tantalizing policy of yours to tell me, Priscilla?"

"You come in—just where you like," she said with characteristic quietness.

Tom jumped to her side. "Priscilla! Say it again! You love me? You really care for me?" he asked, searching her face. "I did not dare to hope, and yet—oh, I wanted you so."

Priscilla leaned up against him as he sat on the big leather arm of her chair. "And I've wondered for a long time when you were going to tell me so. I've known it—yes, I have, Tom," she said, hiding her face in his sleeve.

The Promise of A Better Tire Day

Goodyear Fortified Tires came, years ago, to promise men a better tire day. And that promise was fulfilled.

They made Goodyear the largest-selling tire in the world, a place it has held ever since. Last year men bought 1,479,883—about one for each car in use.

Not Magical

Don't expect in the Goodyear a magical tire. It is not exempt from mishap and misuse.

It won't place because it averaged best. It did that because, in five great ways, it excels every other tire. It combats in five ways, exclusive to Goodyears, these six major troubles—

Rim-Cuts Insecurity
Blowouts Punctures
Loose Treads Skidding

One way—our "On-Air" cure—costs us $450,000 yearly. One comes through forming in each tire hundreds of large rubber rivets. One compels us to vulcanize in each tire base 126 braided piano wires.

One comes through our double-thick All-Weather tread, with its sharp, tough, resistless grips. These things together mean a super-tire.

Lower Prices

Yet these costly-built tires, in the past two years, have been thrice reduced in price. Our last reduction—on February 1st—brings the two-year total to 45%.

Never has a tire given so much for the money as Fortified Tires do now. We ask you, for your own sake, to prove it. Any dealer will supply you.

I, Frank H. Burgess, business manager of The La Crosse Tribune, do solemnly swear that the actual number of copies of the paper named, printed and circulated during the month of March, 1915, was as above stated.

Subscribed an sworn to before me this 5th day of April, 1915.

Notary Public.

WHY, YES!

THERE'S SAM

Recently, in mentioning men whom we regard as the right sort of policemen, we neglected to provide

Sam Johnson with a halo. A thousand pardons, for Sam is "as right as a guinea" and some detective, Sam is the dean of the bunch and has the bean of the bunch. He can spot a crook as far as his hedgehog can spot an early spring, and his foresight is not limited to the second day of February. Although, like his heart, his feet are a little tender, he is no tenderfoot. Sam can get a "character" from this eminently public-spirited journal any day, and to whom it may concern we impart the reassuring information that this fight-or-flee patrolman's cheerful smile is always more conspicuous than his big stick. More power to

Sam and The Hague.

WHAT A MAYOR

MUST DO

Did we think His Honor, Mayor A.

A. Bentley, would conceive the idea that we are preaching at him, we should not take the liberty which this article represents. We do take it because we believe he is quite alive to the seriousness and the difficulties of the task he has undertaken, and that his frame of mind will gratefully accept and fully digest this able editorial with which the Chicago Tribune greeted the election of Mayor Thompson of Chicago.

In praiseworthy utterance Mr.

Thompson has predecessors running back to that time when a newly incorporated Chicago installed its first mayor. We suspect that a man who has come successfully over the grill of a contest for the office of mayor has sublimated emotions which subsequently are modified by the practical considerations which insert themselves into his mind.

We have an idea that he is exhilarated by victory and conscious of responsibility to the many good folk who have reposed their confidence in him. Thus, free from dross, he speaks. Later the quite ordinary needs of office and of human dealings come up conspicuously and the exhilaration subsides.

Nevertheless, we have what might be called a sort of an idea that Mr. Thompson intends to put vigor and energy into a program of getting things done. The limitations in the way of really substantial accomplishment are so great in this city that it requires not merely a well intentioned but a desperately well intentioned mayor to do anything. It is not sufficient that he merely have good purpose. He may sit back in his swivel chair and put his feet on his desk, yielding to the difficulties of the situation and continue to have good purposes.

If Mr. Thompson, now speaking fairly, has got it in him to fight like a football player on his own four yard line, he may make good what he now says. It takes a power of muscle, grit and endurance to make words count in this town. Mr. Thompson has said the words. We hope he has the power back of them.

"AS A PERSONAL FAVOR"

An enterprising Milwaukee concern interested in the liquor business has written newspaper editors throughout the state asking that they editorially support the Stemper bill, the intent of which is to relieve saloon men, particularly in Milwaukee, of some of the restrictions of the Baker law. There is added the usual request to "write to your senator and assemblyman."

For the convenience of the editor, such a letter as it is deemed advisable to "write your senator and assemblyman" is enclosed.

Of the TRIBUNE the writer asks for "a letter from you addressed to Senator Bosshard, covering the subject in the SAME MANNER AS THE ENCLOSED," and in the enclosed letter to be by the editor "addressed to Senator Bosshard" the latter's vote for the bill is asked on the ground of justice and "as a personal favor to me."

The merits of the Stemper bill are, in the letter for the senator, put up in a convincing manner, but as the letter is prepared by a party in interest we are not prepared to accept the argument without investigation. The thing that appeals to us is the letter-writer's lack of a sense of humor. Are there really editors who would think of asking their legislative representatives to vote for a measure as "a personal favor to me?" Or who would presume to accept the interested statement of a beneficiary of legislation to guide the vote of the man who, elected to study and pass upon legislation, has made it his business to examine and analyze the proposed law from every angle?

We would like to be a "good fellow" and sign and mail the "enclosed" to Senator Bosshard, but courage fails us for the reason that Senator Bosshard does not share our Milwaukee correspondent's lack of humor, and we dearly hate to be laughed at. However, we feel sure that if the Milwaukee epistler's position is correct nothing will be lost by our timidity, for undoubtedly Senator Bosshard knows the Stemper bill upside-down in three languages and, as a "personal favor" to the whole people of Wisconsin, will do the right thing in relation to it.

The Domestic Joker

There's a funny man in Harlem who is everlastingly handing out jokes, conundrums and other facetiae to his wife, and she stands for them because they are at home. At times he gets the joke on her and she doesn't like it so well, but still she submits lest worse follow. The other evening at dinner he suddenly thought of something.

"Oh, I say, Mary," he said, "have you heard the latest Broadway conundrum?"

"No, dear; what is it?" she asked, thinking to encourage him.

"I don't know, myself, so I guess I'll go down town tonight and hear it."

He went, too, but she went with him.—New York Sun.

Let not the left hand know when the right hand is doing somebody. An extra ace helps sometimes.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Laws and More Laws

Save us, oh, save us from any more law.

Such a condition the world never saw;

Laws without number for rich and for poor,

Laws, oh, so many, for man to endure,

Laws for the female, laws for the male;

Laws for the sick ones, laws for the hale;

Laws for the peddler; the dealer in silk;

Laws for the baker; the dealer in milk;

Laws for the grocer; the seller of meat;

Laws made for any who sell things to eat;

Laws for the doctors of every degree,

Even to fixing the eugenic fee;

Laws for the barbers—that raises the price;

Laws framed to make us pay more for our ice;

Laws for the wild beasts, for birds and for fish;

Laws made for anything lawmakers wish;

Laws for the mudhens, and laws for the frogs;

Laws for our chickens and laws for our dogs;

Laws to fix labor, and laws to fix rest;

Laws for the hotels and laws for the broke;

Laws for the lucky and laws for the broke;

Laws too, for marriage, and oh, what a joke;

Laws for the aged and laws for the young;

On poor living man like millstones are hung,

And if it were sure that they would hold fast,

Laws for the dying would surely be passed.

FRED W. BURKE.

"Whys" of Moves in European War

NEW YORK, April 22.—At this moment when Italy is reaching a final decision as to peace or war, the crown prince of Serbia declares one of Serbia's ambitions is to see Istra made into a Slav state at the end of the war. Either the crown prince has made a serious blunder in thus suggesting difficulties between Russia and Italy, or the allies no longer count on Italy's entrance into the war.

It is impossible to determine which of these possibilities is correct. The Serbian crown prince is only twenty-seven years old, at which age a diplomatic indiscretion easily might be committed. At the same time, the crown prince, was recently made regent of Serbia, owing to the illness of King Peter. His words are, therefore, much more responsible than they otherwise would be. Unquestionably the young man's assertion of Slav claims to Istra will create suspicion in Rome. It may, in fact, be the deciding factor that will keep Italy out of the war.

The rural population of Istra is Slavonic and the city population is Italian. There is much rivalry between the two races. Recently the Slavs began moving into the cities where they are entering into rivalry with the Italian element, although Istra is in the former province of the old Venetian republic cannot be accomplished by Austria herself. Only the Slavs in Istra can overwhelm the Italians, and, in fact, the struggle for cultural mastery of Istra is a Slav-Italian affair.

If Italy enters the war on the side of the allies it will be largely for the purpose of redeeming Istra. Territorially the redemption must take place at the expense of Austria, but racially at the expense of the Slavs. Such being the situation, Italy statesmen now must inquire whether the declaration of the crown prince of Serbia means the peace congress will cheat Italy out of Istra if the allies win the war.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the crown prince, a Rome dispatch says the Russian ambassador to Italy, now in Petrograd, is delaying his departure for final instructions concerning Russian and Italian interests. But Italy may suspect that whatever these instructions may be they are not final and the final word has been spoken by Russia's royal protegee, Prince Alexander of Serbia. The incident suggests the dangers which confront Italy in her effort to obtain all the loot possible out of the war at a minimum risk to herself. It is one more piece of evidence that if Austria has agreed to surrender the Trentino in exchange for Italian neutrality, Italy will suffer grave risk by rejecting the offer and going to war for Adriatic territory.

STATE ASSESSOR TO RETAIN TASK OF INCOME TAX

Legislators Indefinitely Postpone Consideration of Bills Providing Local Tax Fixers

MADISON, Wis., April 22.—(Special.)—Abolition of the office of assessor of incomes under the state tax commission, and placing the administration of the income tax law in the hands of local assessors met with opposition from an entirely unexpected source at the hearing before the assembly committee on taxation Tuesday.

Wm. George Bruce, secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association of Milwaukee, representing Milwaukee business men, said it would be impractical to have local assessors do the work.

Following this statement, and an exhaustive presentation of the subject by Tax Commissioner T. E. Lyons, the committee unanimously recommended for indefinite postponement the Gretney and Stewart bills, both of which called for the change.

Teachers Want Old Boards
The proposal to abolish the county boards of education, and create in their stead a committee on school districts, to be appointed by the chairman of the county board of supervisors, met with spirited opposition from a large number of educational men before the senate committee on education and public welfare Tuesday.

Assemblyman W. Woodard, J. R. Borden, assistant in the office of the state superintendent of schools, and G. W. Davies, superintendent of schools of Sauk county appeared for the bill.

B. E. Nelson, city superintendent of schools, Racine, made the principal attack on the bill.

Gruewald Bill Lost
The assembly defeated the Gruewald bill, amending the law relating to night work by women, by a vote of 53 to 34 at the Tuesday evening session.

The bill had been engrossed by a safe vote. It would have prevented women working more than forty-eight hours a week, if any part of their work was done after eight o'clock at night on more than one night a week.

MADISON, Wis., April 22.—In a decision handed down by the railroad commission today, the railroad commission orders the Chicago & Northwestern railroad to build a new depot at Sparta. The order says that the depot shall not be more than 150 feet east of the south Water street crossing.

The Milwaukee road is also ordered to erect an adequate platform at the South Water street crossing, properly covered, to adjoin the platform of the Northwestern depot. While the commission dismissed the petition of former Senator Howard Teasdale for a union station as not practicable and unnecessary, the new order in effect covers the point.

LYRIC WILL STAY SAYS ROSENSTEIN THEATRE MAY BUILD

Movie Man Learns of Sale of Building Today and Says It Will Bring a Better Showhouse

Manuel Rosenstein, vice president of the Lyric and Bijou theaters, learned today, upon his return from West Baden Springs, Ind., of the consummation of the real estate deal by which the Linker Realty company purchased the Lyric theater building on Main street.

"Just say that the Lyric will still be in town," said Rosenstein today, "although it is not known as yet just where the theater will be situated."

Two or three locations are being considered by Mr. Rosenstein and Harry Burford, manager, although the new home of the Lyric has not been chosen.

With the erection of the building, if a plan to build is decided upon, La Crosse will have another "movie" theater which will probably outdo any now in the city.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

PAY AS YOU ENTER CARSON ALL LINES IN LA CROSSE SOON

Street Railway Corporation's Changes for 1915 Are Announced Today; No New Cars

"Pay as you enter" cars on the south side, betterment of service in Main street by regulating cars so that from Twelfth street down there will be cars every three minutes and probably double tracking of the car tracks in South Fifth street are contemplated in the street car management for 1915, to be decided today.

According to officials of the Wisconsin Railway, Light and Power company, the "pay as you enter" cars may be installed on the south side within 30 days. The whole matter is now in the hands of the higher officers of the company at Milwaukee with recommendations from officials here that the doors be placed on the cars at once. It was said here today that there is little doubt but that the changes all will be approved.

Manager Peter Valier of the company who presented the plans to the Milwaukee officials, was on the road today, but other officials of the company declared that the "pay as you enter" system on north side cars had prevented many accidents and had proven highly satisfactory. The system was put on this line as an experiment.

No new cars will be added this year.

GERMANY ABLE TO MEET DRAINS

will be also over-subscribed. Let me tell you why," he said leaning forward through puffs of cigarette smoke.

"There are two reasons. German money stays in Germany, as everything the army needs is made in Germany. When supplies are purchased the money goes to German industries and to German workmen."

"The two billions available in April which will be spent by fall will all go back to the people who gave it. And then, secondly, and this is important, the German people, their soldiers and their workers, today have savings bank deposits of five billion dollars. Although many depositors subscribed to the last loan, during January and February when the subscriptions were made these deposits increased 150 million dollars. Compare this situation with France. Her one loan amounted to three hundred million francs cash. It was ridiculously small, a mere drop in the bucket. So France is now paying her war expenses with treasury bills. Together with England and Russia she is borrowing heavily in the United States. France today has a debt of five billion francs against the Bank of France. She also has some billions owing for supplies of all kinds. That is a bad situation."

Germany Can't be Starved

"What effect will the British blockade have upon the situation in Germany?" I asked.

"Germany cannot be starved. We have enough food now to comfortably feed everyone until September or October. The prospects are splendid for good crops throughout the Fatherland this year. If the harvest is not too much below the normal, we will have by the first of August enough supplies to last another year."

"This war has now developed into an economic struggle. England, who cannot defeat us with iron and steel, can find little hope in her silver bullets or in the prospect of trying to starve women, children and other noncombatants."

"Normally Germany imports only eight per cent of the food it needs. As a result of conservation since the war, the people are now able to subsist well on their own resources. If the harvest is what we expect, more bread will be allotted in the fall, because of the success of the bread cards, it has been decided to continue the system until the end of the war."

"Germany has raised more wheat, barley, potatoes, rye and oats per acre than any country in the world, even the United States."

When asked regarding the peace rumors, especially that which has suggested the arrangement of a separate peace with Russia, Dr. Helfferich shook his head.

"I do not think that there can be any talk of peace until there is a successful outcome to the war," he said.

Helfferich, besides being a noted financier, is also Germany's leading economist. Since the war his book "Prosperity of the German People," has had an enormous sale and has gone into five editions and is accepted as the standard of its kind.

DANISH REPORTS SAY SEA BATTLE IS IMPENDING

Scandinavian Vessels Report Heavy German Squadron Waiting in North Sea

COPENHAGEN, April 22.—That another battle is imminent in the North sea seems certain judging from the reports reaching here. Scandinavian vessels reaching port report that the presence of a German squadron of heavy warships in the North sea apparently waiting. The politiken lasso says that it has received positive word that an Anglo-French squadron has been sighted north of Jaedens reef, Norway, headed north. Its destination is unknown. MANY CHANGES MAY BE MADE AT CITY HALL

Council to Be Asked to Provide Secretary and Private Office for the Mayor

Contemplated changes in the city hall following the inauguration of Mayor A. A. Bentley and the new city administration were discussed today by city officials who held a conference in the office of City Clerk Edward H. Hoffman.

When the new council meets it will be requested to make the following arrangements:

Put a central telephone switchboard into the city hall and do away with the interior system which now takes up too much of the time of the several departments.

Provide the city officials with a stenographer, who in addition to his duties may act as secretary to Mayor Bentley and possibly as operator of the new telephone board.

Provide Mayor Bentley with a private office, where he may hold private conferences with visitors without being annoyed by the presence of other visitors who come to see him on other matters.

It was suggested today to move Joseph Frisch, tax assessor, to the office now occupied by the Wisconsin Free Employment bureau and to send this department upstairs to the ante room of the city engineer's office, now occupied partly by that department.

It was further recommended that the stenographer now in the city attorney's office, toward whose salary the city now pays $25 a month, be removed to the city building and that the remainder of his salary be made up by the city and he take over the position of operator and mayor's secretary.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind and stomachache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments.

Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. U. S. TO PROTEST PRIZE COURT COST TO OUR SHIPPERS?

Diplomatic Exchange Is Expected to Follow Reports that Americans Bear Expense of Delays

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Diplomatic correspondence with the London foreign office was generally expected here today, following reports that American shippers are being forced to bear the expense incidental to delays in examination of American cargoes by British prize courts.

Officials pointed out that the state department's attitude toward the order in council was friendly—so friendly as to bring from Germany a charge of undue friendliness. On the strength of this it was believed the state department will demand some reciprocity on England's part.

CITY MAY LOSE LICENSE INCOME THROUGH NEW BILL

The city of La Crosse stands in line to lose $22,000 annually from its available funds if a bill before the legislature which will be discussed in committee tomorrow afternoon is enacted into law.

It is proposed in this measure to take away from all cities not having a department of poor of their own, all of the moneys resulting to the cities from the sale of saloon licenses and turning this sum over to the separate counties for the maintenance of departments of poor.

Mayor A. A. Bentley received a communication today from the League of American Municipalities, of which the city of La Crosse is a member, calling attention to the bill and suggesting that whatever action is contemplated be made before the committee at Madison tomorrow.

COLORED COLONY HERE WITH PASTOR FROM MINNEAPOLIS

Mr. Malone has taken up his residence at 117 South Second street.

LOCK VETERANS IN TO CUT OFF WHISKEY

MILWAUKEE, April 22.—Health Commissioner Ruhland received a letter today from a veteran at the National Soldiers' Home, stating that because whiskey had been smuggled into the hospital, the wards were locked at 8 p. m., and the inmates were in danger of their lives should fire break out.

The letter was referred to Colonel Jams, governor of the home, who admitted that the smaller entrances were locked because of the whiskey smuggling, but said that the main door always remained open. He explained further that the hospital was adequately equipped with fire apparatus, and that the attendants were always on the alert.

NOTED OARSMAN IS DEAD AT HIS HOME

John D. Wilson Dies Suddenly of Cerebral Thrombosis Last Night

MEMBER OF HILLSDALE CREW Was No. 3 in Four-oared Shell Which Captured National Amateur Championship

John Duffey Wilson, formerly a member of the Hillsdale, Mich., crew which captured the national amateur rowing championship in 1880, died at his home in La Crosse last night. Mr. Wilson was for thirty years manager of the Grand Union Tea company, and one of La Crosse's most prominent business men. His death occurred shortly after 8:30 last night, when he suddenly collapsed while walking to the dining room in his home, 104 South Ninth street. He died shortly after Dr. Mary Houck, who was summoned, came.

Death was caused by cerebral thrombosis, and diabetes, with which he has suffered for several years, is believed to have been a contributing cause. He has been unwell for several weeks.

John Duffey Wilson was born on March 6, 1858, in Sullivan, Ind. He engaged early in life in the tea and coffee business with the Grand Union Tea company of New York, later accepting a position as manager of the branch at Dubuque. He was promoted to the management of the La Crosse branch in 1885.

Mr. Wilson, as a member of the famous Hillsdale, Mich., rowing club, attracted world-wide attention as an oarsman. He rowed No. 3 oar in the four-oared shell of the club during the first two years of its existence in 1880 and 1881. He was expert both as a single sculler and as a crew man.

On July 9, 1880, he rowed with the club in the annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur oarsmen on the Schuylkill river, but shortly before the club won the amateur championship of the United States. He competed in many other regattas, both at home and abroad.

On June 10, 1882, he sailed from New York on the American line steamer Philadelphia, to attend the Great Marlow regatta, in England on July 8 of the same year. The Hillsdale four-oared club, of which he was a member, won its event. Other members of the club were such rowing celebrities as C. W. Terwillinger, bow; H. P. Mead, No. 2; L. F. Beckhard, No. 3; and E. B. Van Valkenburgh, sternman.

Mr. Wilson's early career in La Crosse is closely connected with the athletic history of the city. He played second base on many teams, being associated with John C. Burns, Christ Burns, A. P. Hankerson and others.

Mr. Wilson was prominent fraternally in the city, being a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Modern Woodmen of America and the Yeomen.

Surviving him are his widow and one daughter, Mrs. George E. Maines of Seattle, Wash.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Wilson was a communicant. Rev. D. C. Jones will officiate. Interment will be in Oak Grove cemetery. The services will be in charge of the Knights of Pythias.

She is But 18 Yet She Seeks Divorce Today

Anna Rackelmann, aged 18, complains that her husband, Fred Rackelmann would stay away three or four nights in succession, in a petition for divorce, filed by her attorneys in circuit court today.

Mrs. Rackelmann declares her husband is making good wages, but squanders them at saloons. She says also that he compelled her to seek refuge in her parental home and treated her in a cruel manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Rackelmann have one child, which Mrs. Rackelmann asks to keep.

The Short Cut to Pipe-Joy

If you have squandered your youth looking for smoke joy among the desolating peppergrass brands, come over in our yard and try a pipe o' good old Prince Albert. Or, if you like yours rolled into a little paper pipe, smoke it your way, but make it of P. A. There's no two guesses about the pleasingness and goodness of the national joy smoke

It is the smoke fuel gentle and lovable, made so by a patented process, controlled exclusively by us, that takes out the bite and leaves a cool, free-burning, fragrant smoke. Stuff your old pipe to the brow with some of this ace-high tobacco or roll it in a cigarette and see how easy it feels on the tongue.

POSITION TENNIS TOURNAMENT WILL BE CONDUCTED BY "Y"

Three Classes to Be Formed the Champions in Which Will Play for the Title

Tennis at the Y. M. C. A. will be conducted on a position tournament basis, similar to the position billiard tournament recently concluded. The principle of the system is that one may challenge the man immediately above in the list. In case he wins the two exchange places. If he loses there is no change.

The tournament will be divided into three classes, expert, novice and beginner. In the expert class will be entered men who have won first, second or third place in any tournament. Players who have entered in any tournament will compose the novice class. Others will be included in the beginners' class.

At the close of the tourney, the champions of the three classes will play a handicap series for the championship of the association. Tennis enthusiasts are unstrapping their cases and investing in balls in preparation for a strenuous season on the courts. Many of the men have already been out for games on the normal school and Jackson street playgrounds courts.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. Chas. A. Beyschlag, Druggist, 503 Main St.

ASSOCIATION BALL PLAYERS ARE OUT FOR FIRST WORK

Eight Candidates for the Y. M. C. A. Team Are Put Through Work by Coach Lee

Eight candidates for the Y. M. C. A. baseball team turned out for practice last night at the Normal school practice field. They were put through field work by Physical Director H. R. Lee. The showing made by the men was gratifying to the coach.

Two or three practices will be held weekly, probably on Tuesdays.

THE GOOD JUDGE MEETS A BRIDE AND GROOM.

"SPliced for life"—that's what men say when they hook up with the Real Tobacco Chew.

It's the good tobacco that satisfies—and you get your comfort from a little chew. Happy as a bride-groom—and they pass the good news on.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!!
W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.
Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.

Thursdays and Saturdays, Coach Lee expects to have a team rounded in to shape in two or three weeks. It is probable that games will be arranged with the high school and normal school teams.

The first men to sign up in the cross country program at the association will get their first workout tonight. Lee will take them for a mile jaunt through the city. The distance will be increased as the men develop endurance.

Several promising entries have been made in the track and field sports, practice in which is already going on. The association, it is thought, will be especially strong in the weights and the distance runs.

Protect Yourself Against Fire and Let Your Waste Paper Pay Your Insurance

With a man's business growing larger each year, the waste paper more plentiful and prices advancing on waste paper as the pulp timber is getting scarcer, a baler becomes a necessary part of each store's fixtures.

There is over two million dollars paid each year by Michigan Paper mills ALONE for old Waste Paper of this kind.

The average business man does not realize the amount of waste paper he has each year, or its commercial value, when it is baled by heavy pressure and wired, making it convenient to handle, with freight rate much lower than on hay.

In fact, the average waste paper prices per ton compare very favorably with the price of hay the year round the country over.

Can you find a business man that would burn up from one to five or fifteen tons of hay each year? He will no sooner burn or give away the paper when he realizes its value when baled. One ton of mixed paper will pay from 10 to 30 per cent on investment of a Business Men's Paper Press.

While local paper buyers cannot afford to waste time picking up loose paper even if it were given to them, they will pay good price per ton when baled and come after it.

Our baler in the business house is used as a receptacle where the paper can be thrown more easily than in the furnace or on the dump heap to be burned.

CHICAGO, April 22.—The interstate commerce commission yesterday rejected the demand by the western state railway commissions, headed by Clifford Thorne, who are protesting against the proposed advances in certain freight rates on western roads, that the carriers be required to answer a long list of questions, delving into the details of railroad managing and finances.

The commission denied the application on the ground of its experience in the recent eastern rate case when a list of 76 questions was prepared at great expense, greatly delayed the case, and was of no material value in reaching a decision.

GOTHAM HOSPITALS ABANDON TWILIGHT SLEEP TREATMENT

Too High Percentage of Deaths Is Reason Given by Polyclinic and City Hospitals

NEW YORK, April 22.—"Too many blue babies," and too high a percentage of deaths among the twilight sleep infants have caused two of the largest maternity hospitals in New York to practically abandon the latest method for painless childbirth.

The Polyclinic and the City hospitals authorized this announcement today. At the Jewish Maternity and the Sloane Maternity hospitals it was said the use of twilight sleep treatment has been greatly restricted.

Physicians in charge of the Polyclinic Medical school and the City hospital at Blackwell's Island today denied that twilight sleep treatment had been entirely abandoned. Dr. George Shears of the Polyclinic said the treatment would be continued in some cases.

REICHSTAG LEADER IS AGAINST RESIGNING TERRITORY NOW WON

PASSACHA SAYS GERMANY MUST KEEP HER PRIZES

"Pen of Diplomat Must Not Spoil Work of Sword" Declares Liberal Leader

BERLIN, via Amsterdam, April 22.—"The pen of the diplomat must not spoil what the sword has so well achieved," passionately proclaimed Councillor Passacha, liberal leader and vice president of the reichstag, in discussing suggested terms of peace here today. He declared that Germans could never return land which was so thickly strewn with German blood. His speech was in direct contrast to recent suggestions that Germany might be willing to call the great conflict a draw and was the first direct utterance for territorial acquisition made by a prominent German official in several weeks.

"The land which we have conquered at the cost of so much German blood, our bravest and our best, must never be returned," he said. "We must not stop where we are, but we must progress to the English channel and capture all of the British strongholds as an earnest for a permanent peace. And we must also secure much needed insurance that there will be no renewed attempt at invasion by the Russian hordes on our eastern front. The sword has well achieved its mission. Diplomacy must not spoil it."

WISCONSIN BUTTER GETS BEST PRICE

Wisconsin dairymen received from one to three cents more per pound for butter during every month of 1914 than did the states of Iowa and Illinois, according to figures issued today by the department of agriculture. Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota and Missouri butter makers were not paid as much for their product as Wisconsin producers.

Price Average 33 Cents.

During January, 1914, the average price of Wisconsin butter to the consumer was thirty-three cents. Illinois and Iowa butter sold on an average of five cents less.

Records for the other eleven months tell practically the same story.

FRANK WILL ASK COMMUTATION OF DEATH SENTENCE

His Attorneys Will Ask That Governor Change Sentence to Life Imprisonment

ATLANTA, Ga., April 22.—The filing of Leo M. Frank's application for executive clemency was expected here by the week end and perhaps before night fall. That the prison commission would not hear it before May or June was deemed possible, however, in which case it will not come before Governor Slaton, but his successor, Judge Harris of Macon.

Frank's lawyers explained that in deciding to ask early for a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment they had no idea of giving up the fight for their client's complete vindication, but figured that they stood a much better chance of success at present if they asked for a commutation instead of a pardon.

gave to its obligations as a neutral power.

To Preserve Neutrality

"The general attitude and course of policy of this government in the maintenance of its neutrality, I am particularly anxious that your excellency should see in the true light. I had hoped that this government's position in these respects had been made absolutely clear, but I am, of course, perfectly willing to state it again. This seems to me the more necessary and desirable because I regret to say the language which your excellency employs in your memorandum is susceptible of being construed as impugning the good faith of the United States in the performance of its duties as a neutral. I take it for granted that no such implication was intended, but it is so evident that your excellency is laboring under certain false impressions that I cannot be too explicit in setting forth the facts as they are, when fully reviewed and comprehended.

Yields No Right

"In the first place this government has at no time and in no manner yielded anyone of its rights as a neutral to any one of the present belligerents. It has acknowledged as a matter of course the right of visit and search and the right to apply the rules of contraband of war to articles of commerce. It has indeed, insisted upon the use of visit and search as an absolutely necessary safeguard against mistaking neutral vessels for vessels owned by an enemy and against mistaking legal cargo for illegal. It has admitted also the right of blockade if actually exercised and effectively maintained. These are merely the well known limitations which war places upon neutral commerce on the high seas. But nothing beyond these has it conceded. I call your excellency's attention to this notwithstanding it is already known to all the world as a consequence of the publication of our correspondence in regard to these matters with several of the belligerent nations because I cannot assume that you have official cognizance of it.

Sought Concessions

"In the second place this government attempted to secure from the German and British governments mutual concessions with regard to the measures those governments respectively accepted for the interruption of trade on the high seas. This it did, not of right, but merely as exercising the privilege of a sincere friend of both parties and as indicating its impartial good will. The attempt was unsuccessful, but I regret that your excellency did not deem it worthy of mention in modification of the impressions you expressed.

"We had hoped that this act on our part had shown our spirit in these times of distressing war as our diplomatic correspondence has shown our steadfast refusal to acknowledge the right of any belligerent to alter the accepted rules of war at sea in Both men and women inclined to baldness or dandruff will be interested in the following simple home recipe for hair and scalp trouble, strongly recommended by a lady who states that from its use in thirty days she grew new hair five inches long. "Mix in an 8 oz. bottle 5 oz. of a good quality of Bay Rum, 2 oz. pure Lavender de Composee and ¼ drachm Menthol Crystals. Shake thoroughly and allow to stand an hour before using.

Grows Five Inches Of New Hair In Thirty Days

You can get these ingredients at O. T. Erhart's or any drug store. The druggist himself will mix them for you for a small extra charge if you prefer. Apply night and morning with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush.

This preparation is not only a wonderfully rapid hair grower but it quickly stops dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp and will make dull, dry dead looking hair delightfully fluffy and lustrous.

VAUDEVILLE IN SWAN SONG TODAY

William Morrow and Donna Harries Lead Big Bill Which Closes Majestic Variety Season

Engaged with special care that Majestic patrons will have a clearly pleasant memory of the 1914-15 vaudeville season, the last variety show of the present season takes the boards at the Majestic today. It is headed by William Morrow and Donna Harries in "On a Country Road." Sunday the Majestic opens its summer run of movies with an especially good film program for a starter.

Morrow and Harries will be remembered as having made a hit in La Crosse with a singing and dialogue act two years ago. Their new offering is a comedy playlet lifted above the ordinary with a number of songs.

Other acts on the bill include a side-splitting burlesque on vaudeville frailties, the "foibles of vaudeville" presented by William Selbini and Jeanette Grovini, and three other classy numbers. Selbini and Grovini are English actors who rejoice in the professional title of the "coronation couple."

The three other acts are those of Billy Brown, well-known imitative comedian; Clayton and White, a singing and eccentric dancing team; and the comedy acrobatics of Gormley and Caffrey.

Funny movies will open the show.

so far as they affect the rights and interest of neutrals.

The Arms Traffic

"In the third place I note with sincere regret that, in discussing the sale and exportation of arms by citizens of the United States, to the enemies of Germany, your excellency seems to be under the impression that it is within the choice of the government of the United States, notwithstanding its professed neutrality and its diligent efforts to maintain it in other particulars, to inhibit this trade and that its failure to do so manifests an unfair attitude toward Germany.

"This government holds, as I believe your excellency is aware, and as it is constrained to hold in view of the present indisputable doctrines of accepted international law, that any change in its own laws of neutrality during the progress of a war which would affect unequally the relations of the United States with the nations at war, would be an unjustifiable departure from the principle of strict neutrality by which it has consistently sought to direct its actions and I respectfully submit that none of the circumstances urged in your excellency's memorandum alters the principle involved. The placing of an embargo on the trade in arms at the present time would constitute such a condition and be a direct violation of the neutrality of the United States.

Embargo Impossible

"It will, I feel assured be clear to your excellency that, holding this view and considering itself in honor bound by it, it is out of the question for this government to consider such a course.

"I hope that your excellency will realize the spirit in which I am drafting this reply. The friendship between the people of the United States and the people of Germany is so warm and of such long standing, the ties which bind them to one another in amity are so many and so strong that this government feels under a special compulsion to speak with perfect frankness when any occasion arises which seems likely to create any misunderstanding, however slight or temporary, between those who represent the governments of the two countries.

"It will be a matter of gratification to me if I have removed from your excellency's mind any misapprehension you may have been under regarding either the policy or the spirit and purposes of the government of the United States. Its neutrality is founded upon the firm basis of conscience and good will.

"Accept, excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

W. J. BRYAN.

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks NEW YORK, April 22.—The stock market showed traces of weakness at the opening today, with all of the more active stocks off fractions of a point or more. Chicago, Rock Island and showed the opening sale, 600 shares being disposed of at 22, against 22 1/2 at the close yesterday. Bethlehem Steel declined a point on the initial sale and United States Steel fell off 1/4. Railways all opened weakly.

After a short period of selling the stocks began to take on a firmer tone. At the end of a half hour the whole market showed a tendency to rally. American Tobacco was unusually active, advancing five points to 250.

RAGINE GIRL IS WONDERFUL PIANIST

Isidor Tippmann Declares Miss Florence Bettray Mistress of Technique

WORK SURPRISE OF LAST RECITAL
Young Woman Trained Wholly in U. S. Plays Last Night with Consummate Artistry

(By Isidor Tippmann.)

The last musical entertainment of the Wisconsin Music Teachers' convention occurred last evening at Normal hall. The program opened with a suite in D minor by Schuetz. It was played by Mr. Karl Schulte, violinist, and Miss Florence Bettray, pianist, both of Racine. The composition is technically difficult, but these difficulties were fully met by the two players. Miss Elgia Wittwer, contralto of Madison, sang two groups of German and English songs and a great aria from Saint Saen's Samson and Delilah. The audience applauded the charming singer most liberally.

Mr. Karl Schulte, violinist, played five short Indian sketches by Burleigh and another group of short pieces by Mendelssohn-Kreisler, Bocherini, Randegger and Volpe. As an encore Mr. Schulte played a "Moment Musical" by Schubert. The violinist is a young man of considerable violinistic skill. The surprise of the concert was the piano playing of Miss Florence Bettray of Racine.

There is a full fledged concert pianist. And the young lady has the audacity to play with consummate artistry and has not even been abroad! No foreign pedagogic celebrity can pocket the credit of having discovered, made, trained or coached this Miss Bettray and yet she has touch, tone, technique, temperament and personality without having patronized the European markets for any of these precious things. Miss Bettray played a concert Etude by MacDowell with a brilliancy, technical accuracy, scholarly phrasing and a display of solid musical temperament, that made her work really the most remarkable display of genuine musicianship, which has been exhibited during the music teachers' convention. Miss Bettray also played a "Serenade" and an Etude in D flat of her own composition and they are most interesting creations, especially when given as finished a reproduction as Miss Bettray furnished. This young lady should soon stand in the very front rank of American concert pianists regardless of sex, for she possesses in a very high degree the absolute essentials for a musical artist (which is different from simply being a keyboard juggler) and at the head of these essentials stand brain and personality.

Winona Man Meets Death Under Wheels of Train at Rochester; School Aid Killed in Legislature

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 22.—(Special.)—Dr. John B. Murphy of Chicago and of Northwestern university, noted throughout the United States for his work on surgery, in a letter to Dr. E. P. Lyon, dean of the medical college at University of Minnesota, comes out unqualifiedly in supporting affiliation of the university with the Mayo foundation. The Chicago surgeon pays handsome tribute to the Mayos. He writes in answer to a letter of Dean Lyon's in which the opposition arguments were outlined.

In spite of his severe injuries he lived for nearly seven hours after, dying at 9:10 o'clock after the arrival of his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Hennessy, at Rochester on the 8:30 train from Winona. At

ELSIE'S LIFE SPOILED BY ECZEMA

Mrs. David Hughes of Sparta Tells of Hopeless Efforts to Cure THEN D. D. D. CURED HER

Every skin sufferer would do well to read about our experience in trying to cure our daughter Elsie of a case of Eczema which has fairly spoiled her life from the time she was a very little girl. She is now seventeen years old.

For years every attempt we made to cure the disease was hopeless. It was a serious matter, of course, to let Elsie grow to be a woman with this terrible skin affliction and we left nothing undone that might relieve her. Doctors, remedies, salves, ointments, blood prescriptions, all attempts were made one after another, and one after another they failed.

When we say that 13 bottles of the D. D. D. Prescription completely eradicated the disease, we are giving that prescription the highest praise that is in our power, for the disease, remember, was of twelve years standing. For twelve years other prescriptions, skin specialists, doctors had accomplished nothing. Thirteen bottles of the famous D. D. D. which we finally secured, has made our daughter, at 17, entirely clean and free of any sign of eruption.

We are in consequence recommending D. D. D. wherever we have opportunity and have no objection to making public, for the benefit of other skin sufferers, our wonderful experience with this great specific. Mr. Dave Hughes, Sparta, Wis., R. 5, Box 42.

So confident are we that the D. D. D. Prescription will reach your case too, that if the very first full size bottle fails to do exactly as is claimed, it will not cost you a cent. Drop in and let us tell you more about this great remedy. D. D. D.

SPOTLIGHTS

SOLDIERS OF THE SEA

"A land lubber the sailors call him The soldiers know him not. But when there is anything doing, He's Johnny on the spot."

A great deal about the men behind the guns in turret and fighting tops will be shown by Lyman H. Howe at the La Crosse theater tomorrow and Saturday with a Saturday matinee, but the series also includes scenes of that distinctive arm of the service—the marines—which Kipling described so aptly in his ballad, "Soldier and Sailor Too." Said Kipling "there isn't a job on the top of the earth the beggar don't know nor do." Kipling was right about it. For the marines though always on the ocean are never "at sea." That is, they are never at sea when a crisis arises, for they know just what to do and how to do it whether acting as the police of the warships—"the riot squad of the navy"—or fighting either as infantrymen or artillerymen. The average civilian hardly knows that these "Soldiers of the Sea" constitute an organization entirely separate from both the army and navy, but as they usually accompany the navy, they are very naturally presented in this series.

The Original Malted Milk
Unless you say "HORLICK'S" you may get a Substitute.

"Among the Wild Tribes of the Philippine Islands," is another of the exclusive features to be shown. It includes typical views of all of the more important wild tribes and their manner of life, interesting peculiarities, etc., among which are the ceremonies attendant upon head-hunting. It took a great deal of courage for the camera man to go alone among the wildly excited savages to photograph some of these scenes, also consummate tact on his part to keep his own head on his shoulders. The scenes he photographed will never be duplicated as head-hunting has now been suppressed entirely.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.

siderable interest manifested in the coming of the actress, the demand for seats is expected to be heavy. As has been announced the play selected by Miss Adams for presentation is "Quality Street." This was the second of the Scotch author's plays to be presented in this country and it met with a great deal of success. In "The Little Minister" Miss Adams established herself as a star and in "Quality Street" she made her footing more secure. It is the sentiment and the character drawing in "Quality Street" that made the work so popular with the admirers of the actress. There are many people who will always hold that the play is the sweetest one that Barrie has written. The work gets its title from a street in a village in England in the long ago. The characters are the friends and neighbors living on this street. Barrie takes one into the home of two maiden sisters and gradually unfolds the love affair of one of them. The humor and quaintness is typical of Barrie. While Miss Adams has been planning for some time to revive the play she had intended giving it only occasional performances. It has been received with so much favor, however, that it promises to push Miss Adams' other plays into the background for the time being. As is to be expected "Quality

Wonder if a homely woman would go free of a murder charge as easily as the beautiful ones do?

"My Arm Is Stiff" Says Hal Beisel. "So Am I," Echoes Art

And all the fuss came about when Beisel threw wild and Mills failed to recover and the ball took a shoot across Main street, hitting the curb and bouncing back onto a rail where an eastbound street car made summary hash of it, after being nearly upset. It happened Wednesday afternoon.

The accident would not have been so deplorable, Lee said, if it hadn't been the best ball at the association and the one to have been used in baseball practice that evening. (Incidentally, there were two balls at practice, said to have been the contributions of Mills and Beisel.)

And then the cause of the mishap was uncovered by Beisel who on the inside of the cover found a tag marked "September 13," the date of manufacture. Beisel says he is superstitious.

Anyway, the rubber ball with the cork center was intact. Mills and Beisel split the ball for keepsakes.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water, and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. For sale by Chas. Beyschlag, druggist, 503 Main street.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR IS EXPECTED IN TRACK AND FIELD

Normal School Athletes Are Expected to Make Good Showing This Season

Big things are expected of normal school track and field teams this year, considering the caliber of the candidates who are out for the outdoor teams. Dr. Carl B. Sputh will have some difficulty in making his choice of the men to represent the school in the international field and track meet at Whitewater on May 29. Many of the old men are out for the various events, the normal being fortunate in having many athletes in the ranks of the first year men, who are getting over the cinders and putting the weights in masterly fashion with much chance of further development.

Conduct Interclass Meets The plan this year, the same as in other forms of athletics, will be to hold interclass meets and decide from the showing of the athletes who will represent the school in the big meet at Whitewater. All the classes have elected captains and work has been in progress since the close of the basketball season.

Dr. Sputh in charge of the men, is working every evening getting them into condition. He believes that the chances for another championship to be brought to the school were never better.

MAY MAKE PEACE BETWEEN O. B. AND FEDS SAYS RUMOR

Phil Ball of St. Louis Fed's in Conference with Gilmore and Ban Johnson

BY JAMES O'DEA

CHICAGO, April 23.—Chicago was afloat today on a sea of rumors regarding possible peace in the Federal-Organized Baseball war. Here's the dope on the latest cry of "nuff," among baseball magnates.

About three hours before the Sox and Browns opened at the Sox park yesterday, Phil Ball of the St. Louis Federalists dashed into Chicago. After a long conference with President Gilmore of the Federal league, Ball, in company with his attorney, went into conference with Ban B. Johnson, president of the American league, and Judge George H. Williams, coincidentally, arrived in Chicago from St. Louis with Robert L. Hedges about the same time Ball did.

After the Ball-Gilmore conference, there were long distance telephone parleys with W. E. Robertson, of Buffalo, and George B. Ward of the Brooklyn Federalists, from Gilmore's headquarters. These telephone talks were going on while Phil Ball was at Ban Johnson's office. Ball, by the way, went with Johnson and other O. B. officials, to the White Sox opening, in Johnson's auto.

Early the magnates refused absolutely to talk for publication, but the pure dope was that the following developments might result: The St. Louis Fed's and the Cardinals to amalgamate, Phil Ball to become the owner.

Amalgamation of the Chicago Federalists and the Cubs, the composite team to make its headquarters at the Whales' North side park and to be known as the Whales, with Weegman a big factor and Charles Taft in the background.

Consolidations in Brooklyn, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and Kansas City.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD BY HAL SHERIDAN (Written for the United Press.)

Yesterday's Home Run Clusters Williams, Browns, off Jesper, White Sox. Schulte, Cubs, off Meadows, Cardinals. Boone, Yanks, off Shaw, Senators. Chase, Buff-Feds, off F. Smith, Terrapins. Hinchman, Pirates, off Douglass, Reds.

The Mackmen gathered eighteen blows while the Red Sox were picking nine, but Eddie Murphy on third dropped a pop-up with two on and the Sox won.

Three singles, two triples and a passed ball gave the White Sox five runs and the game over the Browns while an opening crowd of 22,000 yelled their heads off.

There was dust on Mr. Meadows' specs. Mr. Meadows is the only pitcher in captivity that essays to wear specs, and he was drenched in the fifth to allow Doak to finish the game—and win from the Cubs.

PASTEL SHADES

BY HARMONY WELLER

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Priscilla Walker was not exactly dull, but she never sparkled. She was not exactly homely, but she was not pretty.

"If I should try to describe her," one man in her set was heard to say in speaking of Priscilla. "She has a personality that is of pastel shades."

"Why, Jinks, you're waxing almost poetic. That's one of the best things I ever heard you say," laughed Tom Royden, snapping him on the back.

"Yes, Priscilla is made up of pastel shades, now that I think of it."

"You can stand such a lot of Priscilla Walker," another man had said of her. "She never bores you with brilliant or tells you to sleep with her back of presence. She is just comfortable; the more you know of her the better you like her."

"Like a hall and make a speech about her, why don't you?" asked Tom Royden again, for it was to him that the second remark also was made.

"Or write her about it. I never heard so many eloquent compliments about any one little drab-colored girl," he said, with some heat.

"Never drab-colored, Tom. Anything but that."

"That's so, Bill; old maids are drab, aren't they?"

And, thereafter, in spite of himself, he was drawn toward Priscilla. He told himself it was only to find out what it was that Bill Hayden and Ben Jinks were always talking about. But the more he was thrown with her—the more he danced with her, dined with her, talked with her—the more he had to admit her fascination.

"Her personality seems to be always just what I need. She invariably fits into my mood. Now, what bothers me is this: does she fit in this way to every fellow's notion? Does every one think she's just the right girl?"

Tom pondered these questions through more than one night. At length he became a frequent guest in the home of Priscilla's parents in their country place on Long Island. And it was during visits in her home that he began to gather, through close introspection, the reasons for her personality.

Her father, an unusually successful business man, was bluff and noisy, self-centered and very proud of his achievements in the material world. Her mother was the antithesis of the father; she was diffident, quiet, retiring—but sweet. Priscilla, born unselfish, had tried all her life to please both parents. She had listened to and admired her father on all occasions, drawn him out on his favorite topics, flattered him a little. With her mother, she tried to be as interesting as possible; she attempted to make the little woman feel that she was a part and parcel of the world instead of a retiring, almost shadowed creature. And Priscilla succeeded in bringing more color into her mother's personality than any one else had ever been able to do. Mrs. Walker was almost at ease when Priscilla was about.

"Priscilla," Tom asked one night as they sat at coffee before the log fire in the dimly lighted living room, "is there anything you can't do?"

"Anything you are not interested in," Priscilla laughed softly and studied the black coffee in the tiny cup she held. "Why, yes, I suppose there are many things I can't do."

"For instance?"

"I can't vote," she laughed. "And don't want to hope," added Tom, testily.

"Oh, but I do! I'd like very much to have the privilege of the ballot, but it is hardly my way to—well, to get out and fight for it," she said.

"Next?" persisted Tom.

"Oh, don't force me to talk of myself; it isn't an interesting topic."

"Not to you, perhaps. But Priscilla," Tom leaned toward her, "it has become the most absorbing topic for thought, conversation and consideration—to me."

Priscilla only smiled a sweet, non-committal sort of smile.

"Did you hear what I said?" he repeated.

Priscilla nodded. "Why—yes, I think I did," she admitted.

"Girl, don't you know most girls would have blushed—if they weren't past blushing—or simpered or looked shocked? And yet you receive that remark—which you know very well is only the forerunner of more and serious ones—as if I had said it was a pleasant day. Priscilla, look at me."

Priscilla turned her soft blue eyes full upon him. Slowly a smile dawned in them even as she looked at him. "Well?" she asked. "What then?"

"What then? I love you. I can't stand it to be away from you for a day. And yet I have that awful feeling that you are all things to all men—to all people in the world. And I never could stand that, dear. I'm jealous; I want you to be mine alone."

"But—Tom," she said, calling him by the familiar title for the first time, though he had long discarded formally with her. "What makes you think I—I am so much to every one?"

"Oh, the fellows are always making poetic remarks about you; they are always looking at you, always wanting to do something for you. And the girls adore you! So where do I come in? Can you tell me? Or is it against that tantalizing policy of yours to tell me, Priscilla?"

"You come in—just where you like," she said with characteristic quietness.

Tom jumped to her side. "Priscilla! Say it again! You love me? You really care for me?" he asked, searching her face. "I did not dare to hope, and yet—oh, I wanted you so."

Priscilla leaned up against him as he sat on the big leather arm of her chair. "And I've wondered for a long time when you were going to tell me so. I've known it—yes, I have, Tom," she said, hiding her face in his sleeve.

"Whys" of Moves in European War

NEW YORK, April 22.—At this moment when Italy is reaching a final decision as to peace or war, the crown prince of Serbia declares one of Serbia's ambitions is to see Italy made into a Slav state at the end of the war. Either the crown prince has made a serious blunder in thus suggesting difficulties between Russia and Italy, or the allies no longer count on Italy's entrance into the war.

It is impossible to determine which of these possibilities is correct. The Serbian crown prince is only twenty-seven years old, at which age a diplomatic indiscretion easily might be committed. At the same time, the crown prince was recently made regent of Serbia, owing to the illness of King Peter. His words are, therefore, much more responsible than they otherwise would be. Unquestionably the young man's assertion of Slav claims to Italy will create suspicion in Rome. It may, in fact, be the deciding factor that will keep Italy out of the war.

The racial population of Italy is Slavonic and the city population is Italian. There is much rivalry between the two races. Recently the Slavs began moving into the cities where they are entering into rivalry with the Italian element, although Italy is an Austrian territory. The possible extermination of Italian culture in the former province of the old Venetian republic cannot be overlooked by Austria herself. Only the Slavs in Italy can overthrow the Italians, and, in fact, the struggle for cultural mastery of Italy is a Slav-Italian affair.

If Italy enters the war on the side of the allies it will be largely for the purpose of redeeming Italy, territorially at the expense of Austria, but possibly at the expense of the Slavs. Such being the situation, Italy's position now must inquire whether the declaration of the crown prince of Serbia means the peace congress will cheat Italy out of Italy if the allies win the war.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the crown prince, a Rome dispatch says the Russian ambassador to Italy, now in Petrograd, is delaying his departure for final instructions concerning Russian and Italian interests. But Italy may suspect that whatever these instructions may be they are not final and the final word has been spoken by Austria's royal protégé, Prince Alexander of Serbia. The incident suggests the dangers which confront Italy in her effort to obtain all the most possible out of the war at a minimum risk to herself. It is one more piece of evidence that if Austria has agreed to surrender the Trentino in exchange for Italian neutrality, Italy will suffer grave risk by rejecting the offer and going to war for Adriatic territory.

STATE ASSESSOR TO RETAIN TASK OF INCOME TAX

Legislators Indefinitely Postpone Consideration of Bills Providing Local Tax Fixers

MADISON, Wis., April 22.—(Special.)—Abolition of the office of assessor of incomes under the state tax commission, and placing the administration of the income tax law in the hands of local assessors met with opposition from an entirely unexpected source at the hearing before the assembly committee on taxation Tuesday.

Wm. George Bruce, secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association of Milwaukee, representing Milwaukee business men, said it would be impractical to have local assessors do the work.

Following this statement, and an exhaustive presentation of the subject by Tax Commissioner T. E. Lyons, the committee unanimously recommended for indefinite postponement the Gretny and Stewart bills, both of which called for the change.

Teachers Want Old Boards The proposal to abolish the county boards of education, and create in their stead a committee on school districts, to be appointed by the chairman of the county board of supervisors, met with spirited opposition from a large number of educational men before the senate committee on education and public welfare Tuesday.

Assemblyman W. Woodard, J. R. Borden, assistant in the office of the state superintendent of schools, and state superintendent of schools, and G. W. Davies, superintendent of schools of Sauk county appeared for the bill.

H. E. Nelson, city superintendent of schools, Racine, made the principal attack on the bill.

Greenwald Bill Lost
The assembly defeated the Greenwald bill, amending the law relating to night work by women, by a vote of 53 to 24 at the Tuesday evening session.

The bill had been engrossed by a safe vote. It would have prevented women working more than forty-eight hours a week, if any part of their work was done after eight o'clock at night on more than one night a week.

Dithmar is Economical
Lieut. Gov. Edward F. Dithmar put in a word against what he termed unbusinesslike methods of the state in paying off its legislators and legislative employees, in a hearing before the state affairs committee on the Bray bill. This provides that the bill had been engrossed by a safe vote. It would have prevented women working more than forty-eight hours a week, if any part of their work was done after eight o'clock at night on more than one night a week.

PAY AS YOU ENTER CARSON ALL LINES IN LA CROSSE SOON

Street Railway Corporation's Changes for 1915 Are Announced Today; No New Cars

"Pay as you enter" cars on the south side, betterment of service in Main street by regulating cars so that from Twelfth street down there will be cars every three minutes and probably double tracking of the car tracks in South Fifth street are contemplated for 1915, to be decided today.

According to officials of the Wisconsin Railway, Light and Power company, the "pay as you enter" cars may be installed on the south side within 30 days. The whole matter is now in the hands of the higher officers of the company at Milwaukee with recommendations from officials here that the doors be placed on the cars at once. It was said here today that there is little doubt but that the changes all will be approved.

Manager Peter Valler of the company who presented the plans to the Milwaukee city council, said today, but other officials of the company declared that the "pay as you enter" system on north side cars had prevented many accidents and had proven highly satisfactory. The system was put on this line as an experiment.

No new cars will be added this year.

GERMANY ABLE TO MEET DRAINS

will be also over-subscribed. Let me tell you why," he said leaning forward through puffs of cigarette smoke.

"There are two reasons. As everything the army needs is made in Germany. When supplies are purchased the money goes to German industries and to German workmen.

"The two billions available in the which will be spent by fall will all go back to the people who gave it. And then, secondly, and this is important, the German people, their soldiers and their workers, today have savings bank deposits of five billion dollars. Although many depositors subscribed to the last loan, during January and February when the subscriptions were made these deposits increased 150 million dollars. Compare this situation with France. Her one loan amounted to three hundred million francs cash. It was ridiculously small, a mere drop in the bucket. So France is now paying her war expenses with treasury bills. Together with England and Russia she is borrowing heavily in the United States. France today has a debt of five billion francs against the Bank of France. She also has some billions owing for supplies of all kinds. That is a bad situation."

"Germany Can't be Starved"
"What effect will the British blockade have upon the situation in Germany?" I asked.

"Germany cannot be starved. We have enough food now to comfortably feed everyone until September or October. The prospects are splendid for good crops throughout the Fatherland this year. If the harvest is not too much below the normal, we will have by the first of August enough supplies to last another year.

"This war has now developed into an economic struggle. England, who cannot defeat us with iron and steel, can find little hope in her silver bullets or in the prospect of trying to starve women, children and other non-combatants.

"Normally Germany imports only eight per cent of the food it needs. As a result of conservation since the war, the people are now able to subsist well on their own resources. If the harvest is what we expect, more bread will be allotted in the fall as because of the success of the bread campaign, it has been decided to continue the system until the end of the war.

"Germany has raised more wheat, barley, potatoes, rye and oats per acre than any country in the world, even the United States."

"When asked regarding the peace rumors, especially that which has suggested the arrangement of a separate peace with Russia, Dr. Helfferich shook his head.

"I do not think that there can be any talk of peace until there is a successful outcome to the war," he said.

Helfferich, besides being a noted financier, is also Germany's leading economist. Since the war his book "Prosperity of the German People," has had an enormous sale and has gone into five editions and is accepted as the standard of its kind.

DANISH REPORTS SAY SEA BATTLE IS IMPENDING

Scandinavian Vessels Report Heavy German Squadron Waiting in North Sea

COPENHAGEN, April 22.—That another battle is imminent in the North sea seems certain judging from the reports reaching here. Scandinavian vessels present port report that the presence of a German squadron of heavy warships in the North sea apparently waiting. The politician here says that it has received positive word that an Anglo-French squadron has been sighted north of Jaedens reef, Norway, headed north. Its destination is unknown. It is believed, however, that it has been commissioned to prevent the Germans escaping in case of a battle.

When the new council clerk it will be requested to make the following arrangements:

Put a central telephone switchboard into the city hall and do away with the interior system which now takes up too much of the time of the several departments.

Provide the city officials with a stenographer, who in addition to his duties may act as secretary to Mayor Bentley and possibly as operator of the new telephone board.

Provide Mayor Bentley with a private office, where he may hold private conferences with visitors without being annoyed by the presence of other visitors who come to see him on other matters.

It was suggested today to move Joseph Frisch, tax assessor, to the office now occupied by the Wisconsin Free Employment bureau and to send this department upstairs to the ante room of the city engineer's office, now occupied partly by that department.

It was further recommended that the stenographer now in the city attorney's office, toward whose salary the city now pays $25 a month, be removed to the city building and that the remainder of his salary be made up by the mayor and his secretary.

Stomach Troubles
Due to Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST
In-digestion, wind and stomachache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. Diplomatic Exchange Is Expected to Follow Reports that Americans Bear Expense of Delays

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Diplomatic correspondence with the London foreign office was generally expected here today, following reports that American shippers are being forced to bear the expense incidental to delays in examination of American cargoes by British prize courts.

Officials pointed out that the state department's attitude toward the order in council was friendly—so friendly as to bring from Germany a charge of undue friendliness. On the strength of this it was believed the state department will demand some reciprocity on England's part.

The city of La Crosse stands in line to lose $32,000 annually from its available funds if a bill before the legislature which will be discussed in committee tomorrow afternoon is enacted into law.

LOCK VETERANS IN TO CUT OFF WHISKEY

MILWAUKEE, April 22.—Health Commissioner Ruhland received a letter today from a veteran at the National Soldiers' Home, stating that because whiskey had been smuggled into the hospital, the wards were locked at 8 p. m., and the inmates were in danger of their lives should fire break out.

The letter was referred to Colonel Hays, governor of the home, who admitted that the smaller entrance were locked because of the whiskey smuggling, but said that the main door always remained open. NOTED OARSMAN IS DEAD AT HIS HOME

MEMBER OF HILLSDALE CREW

Was No. 3 in Four-oared Shell Which Captured National Amateur Championship

John Duffley Wilson, formerly a member of the Hillsdale, Mich., crew which captured the national amateur rowing championship in 1880, died at his home in La Crosse last night. Mr. Wilson was for thirty years manager of the Grand Union Tea company, and one of La Crosse's most prominent business men. His death occurred shortly after 8:30 last night, when he suddenly collapsed while walking to the dining room in his home, 104 South Ninth street. He died shortly after Dr. Mary Houck, who was summoned, came.

Death was caused by cerebral thrombosis, and diabetes, with which he has suffered for several years, is believed to have been a contributing cause. He has been unwell for several weeks.

John Duffley Wilson was born on March 6, 1858, in Sullivan, Ind. He engaged early in life in the tea and coffee business with the Grand Union Tea company of New York, later becoming a position as manager of the branch at Dubuque. He was promoted to the management of the La Crosse branch in 1885.

Mr. Wilson, as a member of the famous Hillsdale, Mich., rowing club, attracted world-wide attention as an oarsman. He rowed No. 3 oar in the four-oared shell of the club during the first two years of its existence in 1880 and 1881. He was expert both as a single sculler and as a crew man.

On July 9, 1880, he rowed with the club in the annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur oarsmen on the Schuylkill river, but shortly before the club won the amateur championship of the United States. He competed in many other regattas, both at home and abroad.

On June 10, 1882, he sailed from New York on the American steamer Philadelphia, to attend the Great Marlow regatta, in England on July 8 of the same year. The Hillsdale four-oared club, of which he was a member, won its event. Other rowing celebrities as C. W. Terwillinger, bow; H. P. Mead, No. 2; L. E. Beckhard, No. 3; and E. B. Van Valkenburg, sternman.

Mr. Wilson's early career in La Crosse is closely connected with the athletic history of the city. He played second base on many teams, being associated with John C. Burns, Christ Burns, A. P. Hankerson and others.

Mr. Wilson was prominent fraternally in the city, being a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Modern Woodmen of America and the Yeomen.

Surviving him are his widow and one daughter, Mrs. George E. Mains of Seattle, Wash.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Wilson was a communicant. Interment will be in Oak Grove cemetery. The services will be in charge of the Knights of Pythias.

ASSOCIATION BALL

PLAYERS ARE OUT FOR FIRST WORK

Eight Candidates for the Y. M. C. A. Team Are Put Through Work by Coach Lee

Eight candidates for the Y. M. C. A. baseball team turned out for practice last night at the Normal school practice field. They were put through field work by Physical Director H. R. Lee. The showing made by the men was gratifying to the coach.

Two or three practices will be held weekly, probably on Tuesdays.

"SPICED for life"—that's what men say when they hook up with the Real Tobacco Chew.

It's the good tobacco that satisfies—and you get your comfort from a little chew. Happy as a bride-groom—and they pass the good news on.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED, RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED!!

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.

Thursdays and Saturday's. Coach Lee expects to have a team rounded in to shape in two or three weeks. It is probable that games will be arranged with the high school and normal school teams.

The first men to sign up in the cross country program at the association will get their first workout tonight. Lee will take them for a mile jaunt through the city. The distance will be increased as the men develop endurance.

Several promising entries have been made in the track and field sports, practice in which is already going on. The association, it is thought, will be especially strong in the weights and the distance runs.

ARTHUR EVANS AND KIRCHEIS ENGAGE EAU CLAIRE TEAM

Another crack at Eau Claire hand ball players will be taken Saturday night by Arthur Evans and Julius Kirchels of the local Y. M. C. A. Evans and Kirchels will leave Saturday. They will play Fleming and Slaggs, who were defeated in three games here a few weeks ago by Evans and Solie. Solie will be unable to make the trip, Kirchels substituting.

POSITION TENNIS TOURNAMENT WILL BE CONDUCTED BY "Y"

Three Classes to Be Formed the Champions in Which Will Play for the Title

Tennis at the Y. M. C. A. will be conducted on a position tournament basis, similar to the position billiard tournament recently concluded. The principle of the system is that one may challenge the man immediately above in the list. In case he wins the two exchange places. If he loses there is no change.

The tournament will be divided into three classes, expert, novice and beginner. In the expert class will be entered men who have won first, second or third place in any tournament. Players who have entered in any tournament will compose the novice class. Others will be included in the beginners' class.

At the close of the tourney, the champions of the three classes will play a handicap series for the championship of the association.

Tennis enthusiasts are untrapping their cases and investing in balls in preparation for a strenuous season on the courts. Many of the men have already been out for games on the normal school and Jackson street playgrounds courts.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, when they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. Chas. A. Beyerling, Druggist, 563 Main St.

Protect Yourself Against Fire and Let Your Waste Paper Pay Your Insurance

The average business man does not realize the amount of waste paper he has each year, or its commercial value, when it is baled by heavy pressure and wired, making it convenient to handle, with freight rate much lower than on hay.

In fact, the average waste paper price per ton compare very favorably with the price of hay the year round the country over.

Can you find a business man that would burn up from one to five or fifteen tons of hay each year? He will no sooner burn or give away the paper when he realizes its value when baled. One ton of mixed paper will pay from 10 to 30 per cent on investment of a Business Men's Paper Press.

While local paper buyers cannot afford to waste time picking up loose paper even if it were given to them, they will pay good price per ton when baled and come after it.

Our baler in the business house is used as a receptacle where the paper can be thrown more easily than in the furnace or on the dump heap to be burned.

With a man's business growing larger each year, the waste paper more plentiful and prices advancing on waste paper, a baler becomes a necessary part of each store's fixtures.

There is over two million dollars paid each year by Michigan Paper mills ALONE for old Waste Paper of this kind.

I. C. C. REJECTS LIST OF RATE QUESTIONS

CHICAGO, April 22.—The interstate commerce commission yesterday rejected the demand by the western state railway commissions, headed by Clifford Thorne, who are protesting against the proposed advance in certain freight rates on western roads, that the carriers be required to answer a long list of questions, dealing with the details of railroad management and finances. The commission denied the application on the ground of its experience in the recent eastern rate case when a list of 16 questions was prepared at great expense, greatly delayed the case, and was of no material value in reaching a decision.

GOTHAM HOSPITALS ABANDON TWILIGHT SLEEP TREATMENT

Too High Percentage of Deaths Is Reason Given by Polyclinic and City Hospitals

NEW YORK, April 22.—"Too many blue babies," and too high a percentage of deaths among the twilight sleep infants have caused two of the largest maternity hospitals in New York to practically abandon the latest method for painless childbirth.

The Polyclinic and the City hospitals authorized this announcement today. At the Jewish Maternity and the Sloane Maternity hospitals it was said the use of twilight sleep treatment has been greatly restricted.

Physicians in charge of the Polyclinic Medical school and the City hospital at Blackwell's Island today denied that twilight sleep treatment had been entirely abandoned. Dr. George Shears of the Polyclinic said the treatment would be continued in some cases.

REICHSTAG LEADER IS AGAINST RESIGNING TERRITORY NOW WON

PASSAGHA SAYS GERMANY MUST KEEP HER PRIZES

"Pen of Diplomat Must Not Spoil Work of Sword" Declares Liberal Leader

BERLIN, via Amsterdam, April 22.—"The pen of the diplomat must not spoil what the sword has so well achieved," passionately proclaimed Councillor Passagha, liberal leader and vice president of the reichstag, in discussing suggested terms of peace here today. He declared that Germany could never return land which was so thickly strewn with German blood. His speech was in direct contrast to recent suggestions that Germany might be willing to call the great conflict a draw and was the first direct utterance for territorial acquisition made by a prominent German official in several weeks.

"The land which we have conquered at the cost of so much German blood, our bravest and our best, must never be returned," he said. "We must not stop where we are, but we must progress to the English channel and capture all of the British strongholds as an earnest for a permanent peace. And we must also secure much needed insurance that there will be no renewed attempt at invasion by the Russian hordes on our eastern front. The sword has well achieved its mission. Diplomacy must not spoil it."

FRANK WILL ASK COMMUTATION OF DEATH SENTENCE

His Attorneys Will Ask That Governor Change Sentence to Life Imprisonment

ATLANTA, Ga., April 22.—The filing of Leo M. Frank's application for executive clemency was expected here by the week end and perhaps before night fall. That the prison commission would not hear it before May or June was deemed possible, however, in which case it will not come before Governor Slaton, but his successor, Judge Harris of Macon. Frank's lawyers explained that in deciding to ask early for a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment they had no idea of giving up the fight for their client's complete vindication, but they thought that they stood a much better chance of success at present if they asked for a commutation instead of a pardon.

gard to its obligations as a neutral power.

To Preserve Neutrality
"The general attitude and course of policy of this government in the maintenance of its neutrality, I am particularly anxious that your excellency should see in the true light. I had hoped that this government's position in these respects had been made absolutely clear, but I am, of course, perfectly willing to state it again. This seems to me the more necessary and desirable because I regret to say the language which your excellency employs in your memorandum is susceptible of being construed as impugning the good faith of the United States as a neutral. I am not for granted that no such implication was intended, but it is so evident that your excellency is laboring under certain false impressions that I cannot be too explicit in setting forth the facts as they are, and have fully reviewed and comprehended.

Yields No Right.

"In the first place this government has at no time and in no manner yielded anyone of its rights as a neutral to any one of the present belligerents. It has acknowledged as a matter of course the right of visit and search and the right to apply the rules of contraband of war to articles of commerce. It has indeed, insisted upon the use of visit and search as an absolutely necessary safeguard against mistaking neutral vessels for vessels owned by an enemy and against mistaking legal cargo for illegal. It has admitted also the right of blockade if actually exercised and effectively maintained. These are merely the well known limitations which war places upon neutral commerce on the high seas. But nothing beyond these has it conceded. I call your excellency's attention to this notwithstanding it is already known to all the world as a consequence of the publication of our correspondence in regard to these matters with several of the belligerent nations because I cannot assume that you have official cognizance of it.

Sought Concessions.

"In the second place this government attempted to secure from the German and British governments mutual concessions with regard to the measures those governments respectively accepted for the interruption of trade on the high seas. This it did, not of right, but merely as exercising the privilege of a sincere friend of both parties and as indicating its impartial good will. The attempt was unsuccessful, but I regret that your excellency did not deem it worthy of mention in modification of the impressions you expressed.

"We had hoped that this act on our part had shown our spirit in these times of distressing war as our diplomatic correspondence has shown our steadfast refusal to acknowledge the right of any belligerent to alter the accepted rules of war at sea in-

VAUDEVILLE IN SWANSON TODAY

William Morrow and Donna Harries Lead Big Bill Which Closes Majestic Variety Season

Engaged with special care that Majestic patrons will have a clearly pleasant memory of the 1914-15 vaudeville season, the last variety show of the present season takes the boards at the Majestic today. It is headed by William Morrow and Donna Harries in "On a Country Road." Sunday the Majestic opens its summer run of movies with an especially good film program for a starter. Morrow and Harries will be remembered as having made a hit in La Crosse with a singing and dialogue act two years ago. Their new offering is a comedy playlet lifted above the ordinary with a number of songs.

Other acts on the bill include a side-splitting burlesque on vaudeville franchises, the "Follies of vaudeville" presented by William Selbini and Jeanette Grovini, and three other acts. Selbini and Grovini are English actors who rejoice in the professional title of the "coronation couple."

The three other acts are those of Billy Brown, well-known imitative comedian; Clayton and White, a singing and eccentric dancing team; and the comedy acrobatics of Gormley and Coffey.

Funny movies will open the show.

The Arms Traffic

"In the third place I note with sincere regret that, in discussing the sale and exportation of arms by citizens of the United States, to the enemies of Germany, your excellency seems to be under the impression that it is within the choice of the government of the United States, not withstanding its professed neutrality and its diligent efforts to maintain it in other particulars, to inhibit this trade and that its failure to do so manifests an unfair attitude toward Germany.

"This government holds, as I believe your excellency is aware, and as it is constrained to hold in view of the present indisputable doctrines of accepted international law, that any change in its own laws of neutrality during the progress of a war which would affect unequally the relations of the United States with the nations at war, would be an unjustifiable departure from the principle of strict neutrality by which it has consistently sought to direct its actions and I respectfully submit that none of the circumstances urged in your excellency's memorandum alters the principle involved. The placing of an embargo on the trade in arms at the present time would constitute such a condition and be a direct violation of the neutrality of the United States.

Embargo Impossible.

"It will, I feel assured, be clear to your excellency that, holding this view and considering itself in honor bound by it, it is out of the question for this government to consider such a course.

"I hope that your excellency will realize the spirit in which I am drafting this reply. The friendship between the people of the United States and the people of Germany is so warm and of such long standing, the ties which bind them to one another in amity are so many and so strong that this government feels under a special compulsion to speak with perfect frankness when any occasion arises which seems likely to create any misunderstanding, however slight or temporary, between those who represent the governments of the two countries.

"It will be a matter of gratification to me if I have removed from your excellency's mind any misapprehension you may have been under regarding either the policy or the spirit and purposes of the government of the United States. Its neutrality is founded upon the firm basis of conscience and good will.

"Accept, excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.
W. J. BRYAN."

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks NEW YORK, April 22.—The stock market showed traces of weakness at the opening today, with all of the more active stocks off fractions of a point or more. Chicago, Rock Island and showed the opening sale, 600 shares being disposed of at 23, against 22 1/2 at the close yesterday.

Bethlehem Steel declined a point on the initial sale and United States Steel fell off 1/4. Railways all opened weakly.

After a short period of selling the stocks began to take on a firmer tone. At the end of a half hour the whole market showed a tendency to rally. American Tobacco was unusually active, advancing five points to 350.

Stocks held up well in a quiet market that reigned in the afternoon session, although the tendency was bearish.

Activity in Amalgamated Copper was the feature of the closing hour of the morning session on the stock exchange, but, although more than 31,000 shares were offered for sale, the stock had dropped to 77 1/2 and it rapidly rose to 79. The final moments witnessed a gradual gain all along the list.

Last Night with Consummate Artistry

(By Isidor Tippmann.)
The last musical entertainment of the Wisconsin Music Teachers' convention occurred last evening at Normal hall. The program opened with a suite in D minor by Schuetz. It was played by Mr. Karl Schulte, violinist, and Miss Florence Bettray, pianist, both of Racine. The composition is technically difficult, but these difficulties were fully met by the two players. Miss Elga Wittwer, contralto of Madison, sang two songs and a great aria from Saint Saens' Samson and Delilah. The audience applauded the charming singer most liberally.

Mr. Karl Schulte, violinist, played five short Indian sketches by Burleigh and another group of short pieces by Mendelssohn-Kreisler, Bocherini, Randecker and Volpe. As an encore Mr. Schulte played a "Morceau Musical" by Schuetz. The violinist is a young man of considerable violinistic skill. The surprise of the concert was the piano playing of Miss Florence Bettray of Racine. There is a full fledged concert pianist. And the young lady has the audacity to play with consummate artistry and has not even been abroad! No foreign pedagogic celebrity can pocket the credit of having discovered, made, trained or coached this Miss Bettray and yet she has touch, tone, technique, temperament and personality without having patronized the European markets for any of these precious things. Miss Bettray played a concert Etude by MacDowell with a brilliancy, technical accuracy, scholarly phrasing and a display of solid musical temperament, that made her work really the most remarkable display of genuine musicianship, which has been exhibited during the music teachers' convention.

Miss Bettray also played a "Serenade" and an Etude in D flat of her own composition and they are most interesting creations, especially when given as finished a reproduction as Miss Bettray furnished. This young lady should soon stand in the very front rank of American concert pianists regardless of sex, for she possesses in a very high degree the absolute essentials for a musical artist (which is different from simply being a keyboard juggler) and at the head of these essentials stand brain and personality.

ELSIE'S LIFE SPOILED BY ECZEMA

Mrs. David Hughes of Sparta, Wis., of Hopeless Efforts to Cure

THEN D. D. D. CURED HER

Every skin sufferer would do well to read about our experience in trying to cure our daughter Elsie's case of Eczema which has fairly spoiled her life from the time she was a very little girl. She is now seventeen years old.

For years every attempt we made to cure the disease was hopeless. It was a serious matter, of course; let Elsie grow to be a woman with this terrible skin affliction and we left nothing undone that might relieve her. Doctors, remedies, salves, ointments, blood prescriptions, all attempts were made one after another, and one after another they failed.

When we say that 13 bottles of the D. D. D. Prescription completely eradicated the disease, we are giving that prescription the highest praise that is in our power, for the disease, remember, was over twenty years standing. For twelve years other prescriptions, skin specialists, doctors had accomplished nothing. Thirteen bottles of the famous D. D. D. which we finally secured has made our daughter, at 17, entirely clean and free of any sign of eruption.

We are in consequence recommending D. D. D. wherever we have opportunity and have no objection in making public, for the benefit of other skin sufferers, our wonderful experience with this great specific. Mr. Dave Hughes, Sparta, Wis., R. 5, Box 42.

No confident are we that the D. D. D. Prescription will reach your case too, that if the very first full size bottle fails to do exactly as is claimed, it will not cost you a cent. Drop in and let us tell you more about this great remedy, D. D. D.
